OLD BALLAD.

Arranged by HOYES.

Piano. dolce.

INTRODUCTION.

I'm glad my heart's my ain yet, And I'll keep it so all my life, Till some bonnie lad-die comes by That has wits for to wile a guid wife,

1st Verse. It's 2d Verse. It's no very long a go, Since I had a lad of my ain, But he's no that I say it my-sel', But all the neigh-bors can tell, That I off with an - ith - er las - sie, And he's left me all a - lone, has no a gown nor a haime, But I 'shape it and shoe it my - sel'.

CHORUS:

But I'm glad my heart's my ain yet, And I'll keep it see all my life, Till some bonnie la - die comes by, That has wise for to wile a guid wife.

3rd.—I'm no so very braw,
But I think I'm just as bonnie,
As Jennie wi' a' her siller,
That's ta'en my laddie awa'.—
Chorus.—"I'm glad," &c.

4th.—But now they are buckled together,
Oh, may they be happy for life,
But a man that will marry for siller,
Will never be guid to his wife.—
Chorus.—"I'm glad," &c.
